Citizens Information Service - Service Offer

Citizens Information Services (CISs) provide free, impartial and confidential information, advice and advocacy services to the public. Each Citizens Information Service covers a geographical area within their region, facilitating both rural and urban areas, delivering a service through a network of Citizen Information Centres (CICs).

Information and Advice

Our Information Officers assist people with queries in relation to a broad spectrum of public and social services, including social welfare entitlements, income tax calculations, housing supports and access to health services. Our staff receive regular training and social policy updates to ensure that the information and advice that we provide is up-to-date and relevant for CIS service-users.

Social Policy

Our staff also engage in social policy reporting, highlighting issues that affect CIS clients in accessing public services, which in turn feeds into the work of the Citizens Information Board in the development of policy papers and recommendations to government. Through this process, CIS Information Officers capture social policy issues in real-time, facilitating the development of responsive and evidence-based policy reporting.

Advocacy

When required, Information Officers provide further support through our advocacy service which operates across a wide range of areas, including social welfare, employment, housing, consumer issues, health, and immigration. CIS provide an advocacy service up to and including the Social Welfare Appeals Office, Workplace Relations Commission, Labour Court and the Residential Tenancies Board. All Information Officers are supported by a regional Advocacy Support Worker who provides expert advice, coaching and mentoring in this key aspect of our work.

CIS Advocacy has developed very significantly over recent years, with more CIS staff becoming experienced in complex representative advocacy. The range and level of advocacy support provided by CISs has continued to develop and expand year on year, with significant outcomes (monetary and otherwise) achieved for people around the country every day.

Further information on CIS Advocacy is available in the CIS 2018 Advocacy Annual Report at the following link:

Applicants

If you are interested in working in a dynamic, information and advocacy service environment, developing representative advocacy casework, and supporting a team of Information Providers to deliver these services to the general public, we welcome your application for the permanent position of Advocacy Support Worker with our service.
